Re: U.S.A. v. Condie, Doc. No. 17-CR-124-J

Dear Gentlemen:

I have attached the letter received this week from Mr. Condie. The substance of the letter is self explanatory, seeking consideration in the government's efforts to collect restitution. I am at a loss as to any authority the court possesses after entering the order for restitution as to how it is collected and the assets that may be applied to restitution. However, it seems appropriate that your offices should be advised in light of the defendant's recollection that the United States Attorney may have committed the office to an arrangement regarding the personal residence of the Condie family.

If there is any action that the court would be expected to take under these circumstances, I will welcome your suggestions

Yours very truly,

ALAN B. JOHNSON
United States District Judge
